INSTRUCTIONS FOR BIBLE

The LIFEPAC curriculum from grades two through twelve is structured so that the daily instructional material is written directly into the LIFEPACs. The student is encouraged to read and follow this instructional material in order to develop independent study habits. The teacher should introduce the LIFEPAC to the student, set a required completion schedule, complete teacher checks, be available for questions regarding both content and procedures, administer and grade tests, and develop additional learning activities as desired. Teachers working with several students may schedule their time so that students are assigned to a quiet work activity when it is necessary to spend instructional time with one particular student.

The Teacher Notes section of the handbook lists the required or suggested materials for the LIFEPACs and provides additional learning activities for the students. The materials section refers only to LIFEPAC materials and does not include materials which may be needed for the additional activities. Additional learning activities provide a change from the daily school routine, encourage the student’s interest in learning and may be used as a reward for good study habits.
Materials Needed for LIFEPAC

Required:

Suggested:
Bible, King James Version
other versions of the Bible if available and permitted
a textbook dealing with New Testament introduction

Additional Learning Activities

Section I  Background Information
1. Discuss these questions with your class.
   a. Was the persecution of the Jews in the Syrian period by Antiochus Epiphanes much different from Hitler’s persecution in this century?
   b. Do you think a religion which consists mostly of don’ts is attractive to an unsaved person? Look at the Ten Commandments. How many are Thou shalt nots? Discuss some of the do’s. Christ stressed, “go into the world,” “Love thy neighbor,” and “seek ye first the kingdom.” We have a positive religion, not a negative one.
   c. If you were living in the days before Christ, what kind of Messiah would you be looking for? Would you accept a newborn baby as the Messiah, or would you be skeptical, as some were when Christ was born?
   d. Do you believe the Bible is inspired or just part of it?
   e. It has been said that a person who goes to church on Sunday and lives a sinful life during the week is a hypocrite. Is this statement true? In your opinion, what is a hypocrite? (Point out that someone we might think is a hypocrite by his actions may just be someone going through a period of stress. We do not know the heart of the motives, so we cannot judge. We must leave judging a person’s heart to God.)
2. Have students draw a time line of the various empires and periods before Christ.
3. Draw a picture of the Temple. Include the courtyard, the Holy of Holies, and so on. (A model can be found in a Bible encyclopedia or in the back of some Bibles.)
4. Write a story about a teen-ager living under Roman rule waiting for the Messiah. (Additional research may be needed for this project to learn more about living conditions, customs, etc.)

Section II  New Testament Books
1. Discuss these questions with your class.
   a. Do you think the Bible was dictated word for word to the writers, or were they inspired with the general idea and allowed to write it in their own style?
   b. If Paul’s work as a missionary was so important to the early Christians, why did the Lord allow so many things to happen to him, such as shipwrecks, beatings, imprisonments, and so on? (Point out that persecution did not necessarily slow down God’s work; in some cases it expanded it. For examples, a jailer was converted, and epistles were written from prison.)
c. If a man like Saul of Tarsus lived today and persecuted the Christians, then became converted, would you welcome him to your church? What would your first reaction be?

d. What do you think of the general attitude of Christians today toward “celebrities” who have been born again?

2. Write the names of the books of the New Testament on flash cards.
   a. Select twenty-seven students from the class and give each a flash card. If the class is small, write two or three names on each card. Call out names of two or more students at random and have them line up so the books will be in order.
   b. Select a student to come to the front with his card. As soon as he holds up his card, see how fast the two students who hold the cards coming before and after him come to the front beside the first student.
   c. See how fast all twenty-seven students can line up in order.

3. Produce a newspaper giving some of the events of Christ’s life. Try to stay within one time period: His boyhood, His healing ministry; His miracles; or His trial, death, and Resurrection. The paper could include an editorial, letters to the editor, spiritual advice column, classified ads, and so on.

4. Have the class pick out one person, an item in the room, or a recent event with which all are familiar. Have each one write a two-paragraph report as an “eyewitness.” Compare your reports and see how they agree either in facts or points of view. (Discuss: Can they be different in points of view without being wrong or contradicting each other?)

5. In Matthew, Christ is pictured as the King; in Mark, the Servant; in Luke, the Perfect Man; and in John, the Divine Son. Choosing one of these four points of view, write one or two paragraphs describing Christ as though you were writing a letter to a friend who had never met Him.

6. Write the names of the books of the New Testament in order. Make sure they are spelled correctly.

Section III Chronological Sequence

1. Discuss these questions with your class.
   a. How do you think Joseph felt when he discovered Mary was to give birth while they were yet engaged? (Point out that she could have been stoned; also discuss the stigma attached to such a woman and the angel’s message.)
   b. Why do you think the heavenly Father allowed the holy infant Jesus to be born in a stable?
   c. Why did Joseph and Mary go to Bethlehem? (To register for taxation but also to fulfill Old Testament prophecy.)
   d. Because Christ was born without sin, was Mary also without sin? (Mary was the mother only of the human Jesus not the divine.)
   e. Do you think Jesus had unusual powers as a boy powers to heal or perform miracles? (Probably not, or the world would have heard of Him before the age of thirty. An exception would be His talking to the teachers in the Temple at the age of twelve.)
f. Why did the people of Nazareth not want to accept Christ as the Messiah? (He was from a humble family, they knew his family, etc.)
g. What were some of the strong points of the personality of John the Baptist? (He was willing to prepare the way and then step aside, he did not try to share the limelight, he lived a simple life in dress and diet, and he preached the truth of repentance.)
h. Was it possible for Christ to yield to Satan in the wilderness? (Humanly, yes. If He found strength to withstand Satan, He understands when we are tempted and can give us strength to resist. Point out also that He used the Word of God to fight Satan and we need to do the same thing. Also, He went into the wilderness to pray. If we keep praying, it will be easier for us to face temptation.)
i. Why do you think Christ waited until Lazarus had been dead two days before He went to Bethany? (So they could see the power of the Resurrection.)
j. If the death of Christ was necessary for our salvation, what choice did Pilate have?
k. Will we ever find a perfect church? (The church is made up of the body of believers, all human. We need to emphasize strengths not weaknesses, we need to lay aside differences, learn not to judge others by outward appearances, have a forgiving heart, and all work together toward the common goal of winning souls.)

2. Divide into small groups. Each group should pick an event in the life of Christ and act it out in pantomime. The rest of the class must guess the event after it is over (suggestions: trip to Temple at age twelve, baptism of Christ, turning water into wine at Cana, temptation in wilderness, chasing moneychangers out of the Temple, Transfiguration, feeding of 5,000, four men letting man through roof of house to be healed, death of Lazarus, Palm Sunday, Resurrection).

3. Write and present a skit of one of the events in Activity 1. Conversation can be imaginary or Scriptural.

4. Using the first letters of the Apostles’ names (on page 41) make up a sentence that will help you remember the names. The sentence should make some kind of sense so that it comes to mind easily. (Example: “So joy, justice, and peace be mine; the justice that stops jealousy.” Simon, James, John, Andrews, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thaddaeus, James, Thomas, Simon, Judas.)

5. Research and write a one-page report on one of the following topics:
   a. how the writers of the four Gospels differed in their style of presenting Christ.
   b. the Feast of the Passover
   c. temptation in the wilderness
   d. the Day of Pentecost
   e. The housetop vision of Peter
   f. the seven churches in Revelation

Reports should be mimeographed and copies passed out if possible.
6. Interview your pastor, Sunday school teacher, or a friend on the subject, “The importance of baptism for a Christian.”
7. Draw a genealogy chart for the ancestors of Christ, using the first chapter of Matthew as a guide

CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER OF NEW TESTAMENT BOOKS
As you have studied, the New Testament is arranged according to its various divisions. However, the Bible was also written according to a chronological sequence. By using a topical Bible, Bible handbook, or Bible dictionary, place the books of the New Testament in the order in which they were written. After you have done that, try to think of a one- to three-word theme for each one of the New Testament books.

1.13 Under Persian rule the Jews were governed by their own high priest, who had to answer to the Persian rulers. Instead of being a great spiritual office, it became very political in nature during this time.

1.14 The Samaritans were of Jewish descent, but had intermarried with Gentiles. To escape persecution by the Persian rulers, they disobeyed the Law of Moses and meekly obeyed and compromised their religious principles.

1.15 Alexander was met by the high priest and other priests, whom he had seen in a dream coming out of Jerusalem to beg for mercy and peace. They told him about Daniel’s prophecy concerning him, and he offered sacrifices to Jehovah. He used the Jews in his army and gave them equal rights with Greeks as first citizens.

1.22 The Alexandrian Jews were concerned about losing their Hebrew heritage because they were being forced to learn Greek to survive in the business community in Egypt. Seventy scholars of the Old Testament Scriptures translated the Hebrew Bible into Greek, and this was known as the Septuagint, or LXX.

1.23 Antiochus was a cruel ruler who killed thousands of Jews and sent woman and children into slavery. He prevented the Jews from obeying God’s commands. He even sacrificed a pig on the Temple altar and erected a statue there to a heathen god, Jupiter Olympus. He did everything he could to break the will of the Jewish people, beating many with whips until they died.
1.24 The period of the Maccabees lasted from 165 to 63 B.C. During this time the struggles with Syria continued. The patriotic and nationalistic Jews were led in revolt against Antiochus Epiphanes by the Maccabean family. When Antiochus died of a dreadful disease, Judas Maccabaeus became governor of the Land of Israel. He purified and rededicated the Temple. He was killed in a battle, and his descendants ruled but fought each other until Rome took over.

1.25 The Roman Empire was large and had a great road and water travel system which helped the spread of the Gospel. A strong central government guaranteed peace and order in the Empire. The common Greek language helped people to understand the preaching. The Jewish synagogues built all over the Empire spread the worship of God and reading of the Old Testament Scriptures.
