INSTRUCTIONS FOR HISTORY & GEOGRAPHY

The LIFEPAC Curriculum from grades two through twelve is structured so that the daily instructional material is written directly into the LIFEPACs. The student is encouraged to read and follow this instructional material in order to develop independent study habits. The teacher should introduce the LIFEPAC to the student, set a required completion schedule, complete teacher checks, be available for questions regarding both content and procedures, administer and grade tests, and develop additional learning activities as desired. Teachers working with several students may schedule their time so that students are assigned to a quiet work activity when it is necessary to spend instructional time with one particular student.

The Teacher Notes section of the Teacher’s Guide lists the required or suggested materials for the LIFEPACs and provides additional learning activities for the students. The materials section refers only to LIFEPAC materials and does not include materials which may be needed for the additional activities. Additional learning activities provide a change from the daily school routine, encourage the student’s interest in learning and may be used as a reward for good study habits.
Materials Needed for LIFEPAC

Required: None

Suggested: None

the Bible, King James Version
Bible dictionary
Halley’s Bible Handbook

Additional Learning Activities

Section I The Definition and Significance of History

1. Define history. Does history have any effect on your life?
2. Would you rather live in the “good old days” or today?
3. Discuss some things we might like to have back from the good old days (examples: family life, honesty, less crime, neighborliness). Discuss some things we might not want back (diseases like smallpox and polio, segregation, poor transportation).
4. Some day people will refer to today as the good old days. What are some of the things you think they will remember as being good?
5. How would Christ view our times? Of what would He approve? Of what would He disapprove?
6. Bring an old newspaper, magazine, or yearbook to school. Compare how styles have changed.
7. Locate in an encyclopedia the biography of one or two famous historians. What qualities made them great? List and discuss these qualities. Do you or anyone in your group possess any of these qualities?
8. Write one or two paragraphs on which period of history you would have liked to live in. Why did you pick that time?
9. Describe a current event as though you were a historian writing about it twenty years from now.

Section II The Characteristics of Historians and the Historical Method

1. Discuss these questions with your class.
   a. Could the writers of Scripture be called historians?
   b. Do you think we have learned from the mistakes of the past?
   c. Is the Bible history?
2. Compare a newspaper article with a historical article. How does the historian’s method differ from the journalist’s? Are there any similarities?
3. Visit a museum in your town. Look for some of the items a historian would use in his writings.
4. Visit a library and check out some books on archaeological finds, particularly in Biblical areas.
5. On your visit to the museum, select an item that particularly interests you. Do some research on it and write a one-page paper.
6. Read a diary of a well known person. Write some facts that a historian could use—customs of the times, current events, and so forth.
7. Pretend to be a historical figure and write a diary that would cover a typical day in this person’s life.
Section III Two Views of History

1. Discuss these questions with your class.
   a. Is it possible that the cyclical view of history is partly true and that there is a time of extreme wickedness and immorality, then a time of spiritual awakening, and so on? This cyclical view could also be part of the linear view of history.
   b. Where did Moses get the material to write the Pentateuch?

2. Invite an archaeologist, preferably a Christian, to speak to your class.

3. Have a debate—the linear view of history versus the cyclical view. This activity will involve some research on the early Greeks and their beliefs.

4. Watch “history in the making.” Visit your state legislature in session, your city council, or perhaps a court trial. Have each student take notes and write a short “historical” report. Compare reports. Do the facts agree or did some students think it happened differently? This activity will help point out the problems historians face.

5. Are people living today who still believe like the Greeks, that man can cope with his environment, solve some of his problems, and that there is no eternal significance to what he does? Write a paragraph stating the Christian’s view.
   (Can man solve his own problems?)

6. Write a 100- to 200-word report of Nebuchadnezzar’s dream which Daniel interpreted. Use a Bible dictionary for research.
