Civil War Course Overview

You are about to embark on the fascinating history of the Civil War. It is a story of human choices that linked the past to the present and influenced the future. It is a drama of how one nation changed through times of conflict and cooperation. It is a tale of two children (the North and South) living under the same roof (The United States) and how they disagreed over the issues of states' rights and slavery.

As you study the Civil War, you will detect patterns in the way people thought and acted. You will see familiar patterns in how battles were won and lost. You will also note how events happening today affect the future. The principle of cause and effect applies in everything you do.

Even today, there are some people who believe the South won the Civil War or that the North had no right to abolish slavery. Others cannot believe that people from the South found nothing wrong with enslaving fellow human beings. For all these people, their view of history differs from one another based on their perspective.

Regardless of where you stand, enjoy learning about this period in American history. It is filled with heroism and cowardness, conflict and cooperation, heartache and joy, triumph and tragedy. Hopefully, you will be able to apply the enduring understandings mentioned above to advance your understanding America.

- Unit 1: Students will compare and contrast the characteristics of the North and South, the development of slavery in the South, and the events that started the Civil War.
- Unit 2: Students will examine the war strategies, battles, and majors events of the Civil War.
- Unit 3: Students will explore many aspects of the war including: the presidencies of Lincoln and Davis, the generals, turning points, role of women and African Americans, and the effects of the war on the U.S.
- Unit 4: Students will gain knowledge about the later years of the war including: Grant's war of attrition, Sherman's advances in the South, the life of a soldier, prisoners of war, and the last few months of Lincoln's life.
- Unit 5: Students will describe the events that led to the end of the Civil War, examine the plans for Reconstruction, and identify three amendments that passed during this time.
